Help us to help you

We try our hardest to make these special Videotron pages within Cable Guide as lively, interesting, informative and as user-friendly as possible — always bringing you news on the latest channels, new services and products, the best of the month's programmes, competitions and offers and much more.

But we need to know what you think.

That's why this month on page 4 we've included a questionnaire which gives you the opportunity of telling us what you really think, what you would like to see more of, what are the most useful articles, and other vital information to help us improve these pages and bring you more of what you like to read.

Please take the time to complete and return this questionnaire to the address shown on page 4 — it could win you a £50 Marks and Spencer Voucher!

This month you can read about a brand new Adult Channel, what you think about Videoway, a special feature on holiday destinations plus your chance to win £50 — just by watching Bravo... nothing could be more fun!

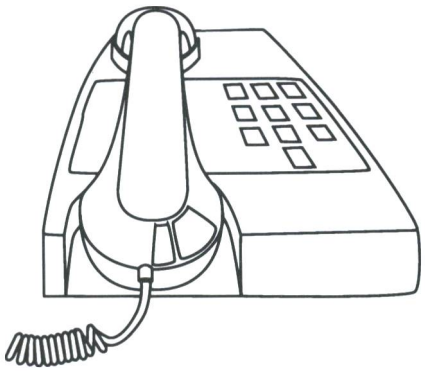
Telephony talking



Many Southampton residents are opting to choose our new Videotron/Mercury Telephone Service, realising the incredible advantages in having an alternative to BT.

Via our state-of-the-art cable network, we can replace your existing service and give you access to all the world's telephone networks.

The fibre optic cable technology means quicker dialing, crystal clear sound quality, and faster call connections.

Using the Videotron Telephone Service can also save you up to 20% off comparable BT bills! That's because charges are cheaper for local, national and international calls and we only charge you for what you use (unlike BT who charge by the unit even if you've only used a fraction of it!)

We can also offer you itemised billing for all calls absolutely free (BT only provide the itemised bills on calls of 10 units and over).

If you live in Bassett, Portswood, St. Denys, Hill Lane and Freemantle, Maybush and Shirley you could very well be one of 15,000 homes which can receive the new service — by the end of July we plan to have a total of 35,000 homes available for the Telephone Service.

Call your Customer Services Department today to find out when we can connect your home and for more details of the benefits of our new Telephone Service.

Magical EuroDisney!

Don't forget that May 31st is the closing date for our great Paris and EuroDisney offer and competition, as detailed in the previous three Cable Guides.

With the special tokens printed in the February, March and April Cable Guides (or with the tokens sent with your February, March and April bills), along with the application form printed in the April Guide, you can now send off to us for the Paris and EuroDisney booking form.

Remember too to send off the completed competition entry form (printed in the April Guide) by May 31st. If your statements about Videotron are placed in the same order as our judging panel, you could be one of 10 lucky families to WIN a short break holiday to the magical kingdom!

Winners will be notified by post before June 13th.

the Adult CHANNEL

For adults only!!

On 1st May we will be launching a new service called The Adult Channel which, as the name suggests, will focus on films of a more explicit nature. The channel has been designed to complement HVC which, from now on, will concentrate purely on action and adventure, horror, comedy, fantasy and sci-fi. The more erotic films which have previously been shown on HVC will now move to the new channel.

An unusual feature of the new channel is the programmers plans to visit most cable areas to record special shows and competitions in local nightclubs (the mind boggles !) .

The Adult Channel will be available as part of a package to HVC customers (£4.49 per month) at no extra charge. Call Customer Services for more details.

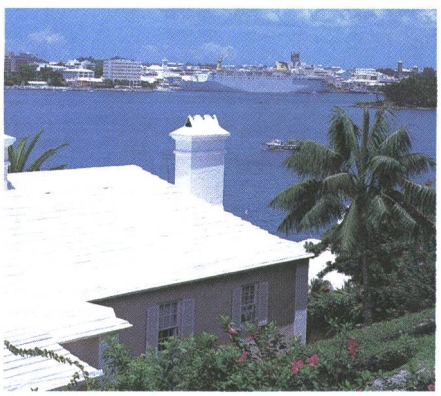
A traveller's guide to the world

If you haven't yet booked your spring or summer holiday you'd be wise to switch on to SuperChannel's Travel Magazine for a low-down on some of the most exciting, exotic and interesting holiday destinations in the world.

Every Wednesday at 9pm show host Jake de Boer and team concentrate on 3/4 holiday spots, capturing on film the very essence of the location, including best-buys, best entertainment, special interests and just about everything that will help the traveller have a great holiday.

On May 6th the show travels to the beautiful Algarve in Portugal and explores a land with a rich tapestry of tradition and culture with an amazing variance of history.



Bermuda.

Maybe a sub-tropical island is more your idea of an ideal get-away. Well if it is you won't be disappointed with Roturura, New Zealand, home to the Maoris, hot springs and geysers, bubbling mud, and some of the finest rainbow trout fishing in the world.

Shopping — Morocco style.

On May 13th the show discovers the mystics of Morocco with its bustling bazaars, heady spices, and beautiful beaches. This week the Travel Guide travels to Oureka and Fantasia and uncovers the tales of the 1001 Arabian Knights!

He loves to golf, she loves to laze on white sandy beaches — Bermuda could be that perfect compromise that would mean taking this year's holiday together! The show takes a comprehensive look at golfing holidays and at the islands many attractions when off the green.

From the Caribbean to the Emerald Isle, the show moves East to Ashford Castle right in the heart of Ireland. This historic themed holiday offers one of the finest hotels in the world with stunning scenery and excellent cuisine to match.

Lastly, Jake visits the home of the windmill and the bicycle and in the spring the most beautiful fields awash with brilliantly coloured tulips — Gelderland in Holland. Also the filming location for the film A Bridge Too Far, this week the show takes on a nostalgic approach to Dutch cinema plus the countries many tourist attractions.

Bermuda, Ashford Castle and Gelderland are the destinations for the show on 20th May.

Dances with Wolves on Sky

Sky expects to be showing Kevin Costner's Oscar-laden blockbuster Dances with Wolves in November.

It is part of a bumper package of hit 1991 movies that the network has snapped up.

All of the top 50 English-language feature films (not animated films) are part of a deal that allows Sky to give them their British TV premieres in the near future.

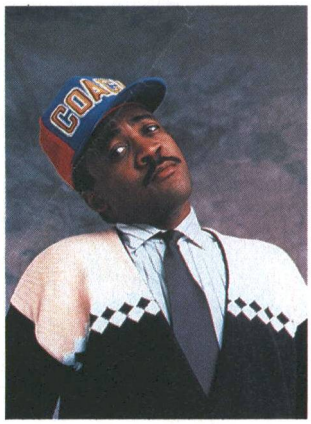
Other box-office hits to be unveiled on the small screen are Terminator 2: Judgment Day starring Arnold Schwarzenegger, Thelma and Louise starring Geena Davis and Susan Sarandon, and 1992's multiple Oscar-winner The Silence of the Lambs, with Jodie Foster and Anthony Hopkins.

HVC's new signings

HVC Ltd, the programme provider operating the Adult Channel and HVC, has announced that it has bought over 400 programmes at the recent American Film Marketing Association festival in Los Angeles.

Programme manager Jeremy Yates said that deals had been done with several distributors, the largest of which was with Film Investors Overseas Service for 250 films including titles like Final Taboo, Coming of Age, Sex Boat and Scheherazade. 'This probably made us the largest buyer there and the additional titles will strengthen our library through the Autumn,' said Mr Yates. 'We have also acquired our first sexy soap, called Office Girls.' ■

Voice in the wilderness



MOST PEOPLE think that Darryl Harper is mad when he abandons his lucrative advertising career to become a schoolteacher.

Not only that, instead of choosing a 'nice' school in an upper class suburb, he decides to enter the jungle of inner-city schools where drugs and violence are a way of life.

Homeroom is a new series that follows Darryl Harper through his lively days as a teacher at PS 391, where his warm and caring ways win students over by encouraging education rather than expulsion. Darryl is played by namesake Darryl Sivad ■

That's entertainment with Fiona

WITH SHOWBIZ STORIES dotted throughout weekly bulletins, and her weekend entertainment spot on Friday evening's Sky World News Tonight, Sky News entertainment editor Fiona Phillips is unlikely to be found hanging out with the stars in West End nightclubs.

'I've done star interviews where they've said, "Come out with us for a drink," she recalls. 'But once an interview has been recorded I've got to get back to Sky to get it edited for broadcast. Anyway, I wouldn't want to compromise myself.'

Getting to know the stars is difficult too, probably as a result of Fleet Street tactics.

'I interviewed Dudley Moore a couple of weeks ago, and he said how awful it was to open his heart up to a reporter, only to be taken to pieces in the paper. But at the end of the day I'm doing a job, and so are they.

'Robin Williams is the man I'd most like to interview. He's such a dichotomy. Here is a funny, witty, lugubrious character, but there's a really sensitive side lurking there too.'

With television her ultimate goal, Fiona worked for various radio stations before landing two short-term contracts for BBCtv and finally coming to Sky News as a general reporter.

But when Mary Green, presenter of Sky News's entertainment magazine Wild West End, went to Moscow for a week of programmes, Fiona was left in the hot seat. 'I'd only been there six weeks,' she says. 'It was brilliant.'

Since then she hasn't stopped. 'I'm good at organising work, but really bad at organising my social life. If I buy tickets for something, invariably I have to work late and end up giving them away. I sometimes get to film premieres, but there is so much to do for Sky that I rarely get the chance to do anything else.'

That's showbusiness! ■

BRIGHT SPARK

BARRY ALLEN is a handsome man with a beautiful girlfriend and a good steady career as a police chemist. But his life is changed forever when a bolt of lightning strikes his lab during a thunder storm, sparking an astounding chemical reaction that changes him from a normal fun-loving guy into a new super-hero and the fastest man on Earth – The Flash.

Emmy award-winning actor John Wesley plays the incredible Flash, and English model and actress Amanda Pays plays Christina McGee, the only person who knows the secret origins of our super-hero.

In the premiere two-hour pilot episode, the masked crime fighter uses his new-found powers to battle a motorcycle pack that is terrorising Central City. ■

Hotel California

THE LAVISH St Gregory Hotel in San Francisco is the home-away-from-home for the rich and famous, and manager Peter McDermott (James Brolin) and his beautiful assistant Christine Francis (Connie Seleca) are on hand to make sure that all residents are given the kid-glove treatment.

Among the familiar faces who will be appearing as guests are Morgan Fairchild, Liberace, Stewart Granger, Shirley Jones, Connie Stevens, Pernell Roberts and Lynn Redgrave.

Bette Davis was the original choice for hotel-owner Laura Trent, but because of ill-health she appeared only in the pilot episode, and then departed on an 'extended trip'.

This left the St Gregory in the no-nonsense hands of her wealthy aristocrat sister Victoria Cabot, played by another Hollywood veteran, Anne Baxter.

Based on Arthur Hailey's best-selling novel of sex and scandal, the series enjoyed huge success, and even Victoria's death (due to the real life demise of Miss Baxter in 1985) only added to the intrigue, as internal jealousies of owners and staff carried things on for another three years.

Exterior shots showed the imposing facade of the Fairmont Hotel on Nob Hill in San Francisco, while the St Gregory's giant lobby was recreated on a Hollywood sound stage. Music was by Henry Mancini. ■

Will it be all smiles for the staff of the St Gregory Hotel?

Alyssa-Jane's acting from the heart . . .

'THE RAPE WAS a terrible thing to have to play out,' says E Street actress Alyssa-Jane Cook.

'I have never had any experiences like that in my own life. To have to delve into this kind of tragedy was very difficult and very emotional.'

Alyssa-Jane plays 18-year-old barmaid Lisa Bennett in Sky One's new hit soap from Australia. The rape of Lisa, which occurs in this month's episodes, was so upsetting that Alyssa-Jane could not shrug off the role when she went home at night.

'I had to go to the Rape Crisis Centre in Sydney and sit in on some counselling sessions,' she told Cable Guide. 'I read about rape and how women dealt with it or failed to deal with it.'

Her portrayal of Lisa was sensitive enough to make Alyssa-Jane something of a role model for victims.

'I really saw the purpose of my playing that storyline. It was a sort of helpline for rape victims who felt life was no longer worth living. The Rape Crisis Centre was very positive about the way we played the storyline. I got mail from women with similar experiences, which were pretty emotional to read about. I wrote back to them and offered support.'

Alyssa-Jane, one of Australia's emerging actresses, is fond of her character. 'Lisa's a strong individual. She doesn't let people walk all over her. She's had a sad upbringing but she is a survivor.

'The part gave me amazing scope to explore my feelings.'

British viewers may already have spotted Alyssa-Jane in those other popular Aussie soaps Sons and Daughters and A Country Practice.

E Street gave her her first long-running role. The drama is set in an inner city suburb and now tops the ratings in Australia.

At present Alyssa-Jane has dropped out of the series to fulfil her singing ambitions, though Sky viewers won't miss her for a long time yet. 'The producers said if you want to have a rest and do other things, that's fine.' She is in a band called Baktufunk. 'Like the Commitments, we just do cover versions.'

Playing a rape victim (right) was 'very emotional' for Alyssa-Jane Cook ▶

There are no plans for the band to record. Alyssa-Jane says: 'I want to do a musical. I would like to be the Bette Midler or Cher of Australia in that I would like to do a movie and do the soundtack for it.'

Marriage? 'I have no marriage plans at present. I'm very career-orientated and need to have that as my focal point.'

When she eventually takes the plunge it probably will not be to another actor.

'I don't find men in my industry appealing . . .' ■

Royal tour

Prince takes to the road this summer with a raunchy accompaniment from The New Power Generation for European concert-goers.

The tour kicks off in Stockholm in mid-May and takes its name from his latest album Diamonds and Pearls which has spawned such successful singles as Get Off and Cream.

MTV will be marking Prince's royal re-emergence with MTV's Prince Weekend, an intimate look at the mighty man's video creations, his work with other artists and concert footage.

▶▶ MTV: MTV's Prince Weekend Saturday 9th and Sunday 10th ◀◀

10 Prince CDs must be won!

Now that Prince's European tour dates are out the scramble for tickets is well and truly on. Unfortunately there are none to be had at Cable Guide, but there is a chance for you to win a copy of Prince's latest CD Diamonds and Pearls.

Just answer these simple questions:

1 What is Prince's real name?
2 Name one of Prince's three pseudonyms
3 Name the Prince sidekicks who had a hit with Waterfall in 1987.

The first 10 correct entries opened on May 20th will win a copy of Prince's Diamonds and Pearll CD from WEA Records. Entries on a postcard to:

Also hitting the road in May are Irish rockers U2, whose 1991 release Achtung Baby shot straight to the top of the charts. The first offering from the band for four years, Achtung Baby was written and recorded in Berlin's famous Hansa Studio and provided three major singles in the shape of The Fly, She Moves in Mysterious Ways and One.

The European tour, which will be known as 'Zoo Television', promises to be an over-the-top spectacular, involving hundreds of TV screens, suspended Trabant cars and belly dancers.

MTV's U2 Weekend will feature the band on video and performing, as well as some rare interviews.

Fresh method

Although Marlon Brando has not yet retired, critics saw his 1990 performance in Andrew Bergman's The Freshman as some sort of tribute, 'the swansong of a great and dying breed' as one writer put it.

A tribute it is, albeit a self-conscious one, but a swansong never.

The ageing Brando plays opposite squeaky-clean Matthew Broderick in a wacky tale about a freshman film student who has his money stolen by a small-time con man.

In order to buy his text books, college boy goes to work for a shady character involved in the import business, and this leads to all kinds of problems, including a slightly silly chase after a Komodo dragon in a crowded shopping mall and a shoot-out at the exclusive Gourmet Club, where wealthy diners pay huge sums of money to eat endangered species!

The film is crammed with deliberate cinematic references, as young Broderick's film course involves studying scenes from The Godfather and its sequel. Money for old rope? Maybe, but both the clips from the older films and his real-time presence in The Freshman are a testament to Brando's resilience, quiet dignity and extraordinary quality of performance. And with a soundtrack boasting such classics as Dylan's Maggie's Farm and The Champs' Tequila, what more could you ask for? ■

Love of the first degree!

MICHAEL PALIN stars as his own great-grandfather in the gentle romantic comedy American Friends.

The ex-Monty Python figure got the inspiration for the touching tale in his great-grandfather's travel diaries, which told of the former Oxford don's relationship with a young American woman whom he met while on a walking holiday in Switzerland.

Their innocent romance, however, became more complicated when set against the stuffy all-male environs of Trinity College, Oxford, during the 1890s.

British stage and screen star Alfred Molina co-stars as Palin's university rival, while Trini Alvarado plays the winsome young American who becomes the object of the scholar's affection. ■

The train takes the strain

GENE HACKMAN is always good value for money, and money was the name of the game in director Peter Hyams's 1990 murder thriller Narrow Margin. The movie cost an incredible $21m to make, nearly 100 times more expensive than the 1952 original which required $230,000.

And what of the story? Anne Archer plays Carol Hunnicut, a hapless young woman who goes on a blind date, only to have her prospective partner gunned down in front of her by gangsters.

This marks the start of a train and helicopter chase from LA to Canada and back, as District Attorney Hackman, who is out to nail the hood who carried out the slaying, tries to get Carol back to testify in California. 'They want her dead. He needs her alive,' ran publicity at the time.

▲ Room on top only: Anne Archer and Gene Hackman

'I was intrigued by its premise of two people being stalked while on a train,' says Hyams.

'I think that trains are very romantic, mysterious and exotic and I was compelled by the claustrophobic environment you create when you take people and confine them in very tight spaces – when there is prey, a predator and no place to go.'

Hyams not only directed but also photographed the movie, which includes many impressive scenes including a beautiful long shot of the train in question mirrored in a passing lake. ■

Swayze's spirited romance

▲ Acting of substance from the ethereal Patrick Swayze

THE OLD HOLLYWOOD genre of Unhappy Earthbound Spook Films rose from the vaults in 1990 as Ghost and became one the top 20 money-spinning movies of all time.

The film stars Patrick Swayze, Demi Moore (who more recently enjoyed some notoriety by posing pregnant and unclad on the cover of Vanity Fair) and Whoopi Goldberg, who won an Oscar for her performance.

'This is the most intense role I have ever played,' says Swayze, who drew on some of the feelings he experienced following his father's death during the filming of his own death scene.

The film featured the much-talked-about and mimicked love-making scene between Swayze and Moore over a suggestive piece of spinning pottery!

Swayze plays banker Sam Wheat, who is blissfully in love with Moore's character of artist Molly Jensen. Sam is suddenly killed by a mugger and Molly is left grieving, unaware that Sam is still wandering New York as a ghost.

The invisible Sam realises that Molly's life is in danger and he attempts to get charlatan psychic Oda Mae Brown (Goldberg) to contact his living lover.

Molly suspects that Oda Mae, who is astounded to discover that she really does have strange powers, is a conwoman. When Oda Mae gives her intimate details supplied by Sam, Molly confides in one of Sam's old colleagues. But is he to be trusted?

Even the cynicism of the most hard-bitten and movie-weary of critics wilted before the emotional impact of Ghost. The splendid special effects are used sparingly as a fine romantic thriller unfolds providing plenty of laughs (mostly from the likeable Whoopi Goldberg) along the way.

Much of this blockbuster's enjoyment is had in watching Sam coming to grips with his new status as a spook. He is terrified at first by the unfathomable dimensions of a world seen from the viewpoint of the dead.

Attempting to embrace Molly, he is devastated when she walks through him and cannot feel him. But before the movie is over, Swayze and Moore will certainly arouse strong feelings in most members of the audience.

Dangerous to know...

GRETA SCACCHI has a reputation for baring more than raw emotion on screen.

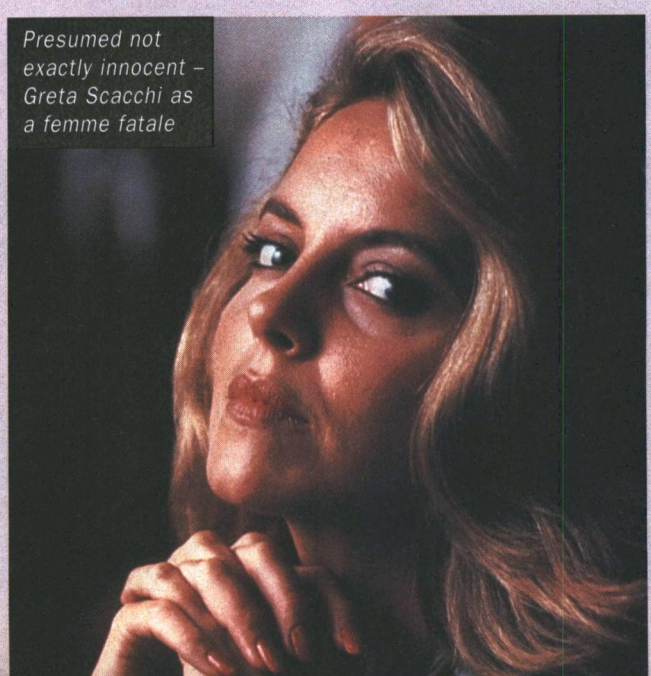
Her casting as a self-serving siren in the powerful thriller Presumed Innocent was according to type. But her impact goes further than skin-deep.

She's a skilled enough actress to be alluring but objectionable as a liar and manipulator who comes to a grisly end in this story based on Scott Turow's bestseller.

She plays Carolyn Polhemus, a specialist in hard-to-prove rape and child-abuse cases. Her professional ability is impressive but her background is murky.

When she becomes the victim of a horrible sex murder herself, a very sordid can of worms is upended.

Harrison Ford plays the uncomfortable Rusty Sabich, a prosecuting attorney and former colleague of Carolyn's who is assigned to investigate the death. Family man Rusty is less than eager to do so because he has had an affair with Carolyn.



Presumed not exactly innocent – Greta Scacchi as a femme fatale

His boss, chief prosecutor Raymond Horgan (the intimidating Brian Dennehy), has also been involved with Carolyn. He insists that Rusty take the case.

Into a maze of deception and duplicity Rusty is pushed, eventually finding himself accused of Carolyn's murder.

The excellent cast is completed by Raul Julia as the lawyer defending Rusty and Bonnie Bedelia as Rusty's unhappy missus. ■

Mole's meanderings

Mole's pal hedgehog is a very lazy creature. To make things worse he loves good food. One day he finds some fruit and tucks into it while the mole is busy carrying stones from one place to another. He asks hedgehog to help him, but hedgehog refuses and continues munching his titbits. Mole warns him of the danger of sitting around without seeing what is going on around him, all in vain.

Poor hedgehog ends up in a cage in a school nature class, and it's up to the mole and the little mouse to try to free him. ■

Shelling out

'Mean, green and on the screen' is how the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles were described when they first emerged, and that's not far from the truth.

The Shredder is a renegade ninja master who recruits unhappy children to terrorise New York City. All seems lost, until a group of mysterious creatures emerges from the sewers to save the day.

Raphael, Michaelangelo, Donatello and Leonardo were transformed into the teenage mutant ninja turtles as a result of exposure to radioactive waste, and were schooled in ninjitsu by Splinter, a wise rat formerly owned by a ninja master murdered by the Shredder.

Forever eating pizza and speaking in nonstop surfer lingo, the genial reptiles and their rat guru hurtle through 90 minutes of comic-book mayhem. ■

by Thomas Blackshear
1990 'Plate of the Year' Artist

Twenty five years ago, the most original, innovative and daring television show ever produced was launched. Everyone immediately fell under the spell of STAR TREK'S® most captivating character, Mr. Spock.

Here was a figure like none before. Half human, half alien. Different in looks, incapable of affection, disdainful of human limits, yet completely and utterly . . . irresistible.

Now, on the 25th anniversary of STAR TREK, The Hamilton Collection and Paramount Pictures proudly present "SPOCK". Created by Thomas Blackshear, one of America's leading cinematic artists, this fine porcelain collector plate portrays the First Officer of the U.S.S. ENTERPRISE™ against a dramatic backdrop of deep space.

Captured in an extraordinarily rich palette of colours and highlighted by brilliant 8mm 23K gold border, this work of art premieres the official STAR TREK 25th Anniversary Commemorative Collection.

As an owner of "SPOCK", you will be guaranteed the right to acquire all subsequent plates in the Star Trek Portraits collection at the original issue price of £19.90 each. Your complete satisfaction is ensured by our 100% Buy-Back Guarantee that allows you to return any plate within 30 days for a prompt replacement or full refund. Ten copies of Ghost must be won! Fans of Patrick Swayze, Demi Moore and Whoopi Goldberg will thrill to the box-office blockbuster, which is showing this month on The Movie Channel

The story of how Sam Wheat watches over his girlfriend Molly after being killed by a mugger is one of the most touching screen love stories, and it gave Whoopi Goldberg an Oscar for Best Supporting Actress.

Now Cable Guide is giving away 10 Ghost videos from CIC Video, which include an exclusive interview with Patrick Swayze and Whoopi Goldberg, in which the stars tell just how the movie affected them.

To win a copy of one of the most popular films ever, all you have to do is answer the following three questions: 1 What is Whoopi Goldberg's real name? 2 Who is Demi Moore married to? 3 Who wrote the movie's haunting soundtrack?

The first correct entry opened on 20 May will win a copy of Ghost worth £12.99. Do you have a ghost of a chance? Believe! Entries on a postcard to: Ghost Competition, The Editor, Cable Guide, Communications House, 5 Factory Lane, Croydon CR9 3RA

THE GOVERNMENT AUCTION REPORT

Millions of pounds worth of property is being seized by Government authorized departments every day! Police recover stolen, untraceable equipment and HM Customs and Excise recover masses of illegally handled or smuggled items valued at hundreds of thousands of pounds. At the same time, official Government receivers embargo massive hoards of equipment & other GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS regularly seize hoards of valuable equipment. Have you ever wondered where these goods end up?

For the FIRST TIME EVER, the Government Auction Report reveals that these goods are being QUIETLY SOLD OFF at a number of Government authorized auctions scattered throughout the U.K. Unlike other public auctions, it is in the Governments interests to sell off these goods as quickly and as quietly as possible, with most goods being sold for less than 10% of their market value! The following items sold at recent auctions show the amazing bargains that, up until now, a number of dealers have been keeping away from the public eye;

PRODUCT	New Price	Sale Price
Orion Inj F.Reg	£6,450	£2150
Golf Clubs	430	29
Satellite System	499	37
Gold Watch	890	79
Olivetti Computer	1,249	98
Jet Ski	2,300	115
Video Camera	999	73

The Government Auction Report reveals for the first time ever that these auctions are not solely for the benefit of the trade! It amazingly lists nearly every Government authorized auction currently operating throughout the U.K. Increasing public awareness of these auctions will undoubtedly push up the sales prices. We beleive that the real bargains will only be around for the next nine to twelve months. A recent T.V. report highlighted the amazing bargains that are currently available, but they refused to give any information on the location of these auctions. This amazing report lists Names, Addresses and Tel No., and will save you a fortune!

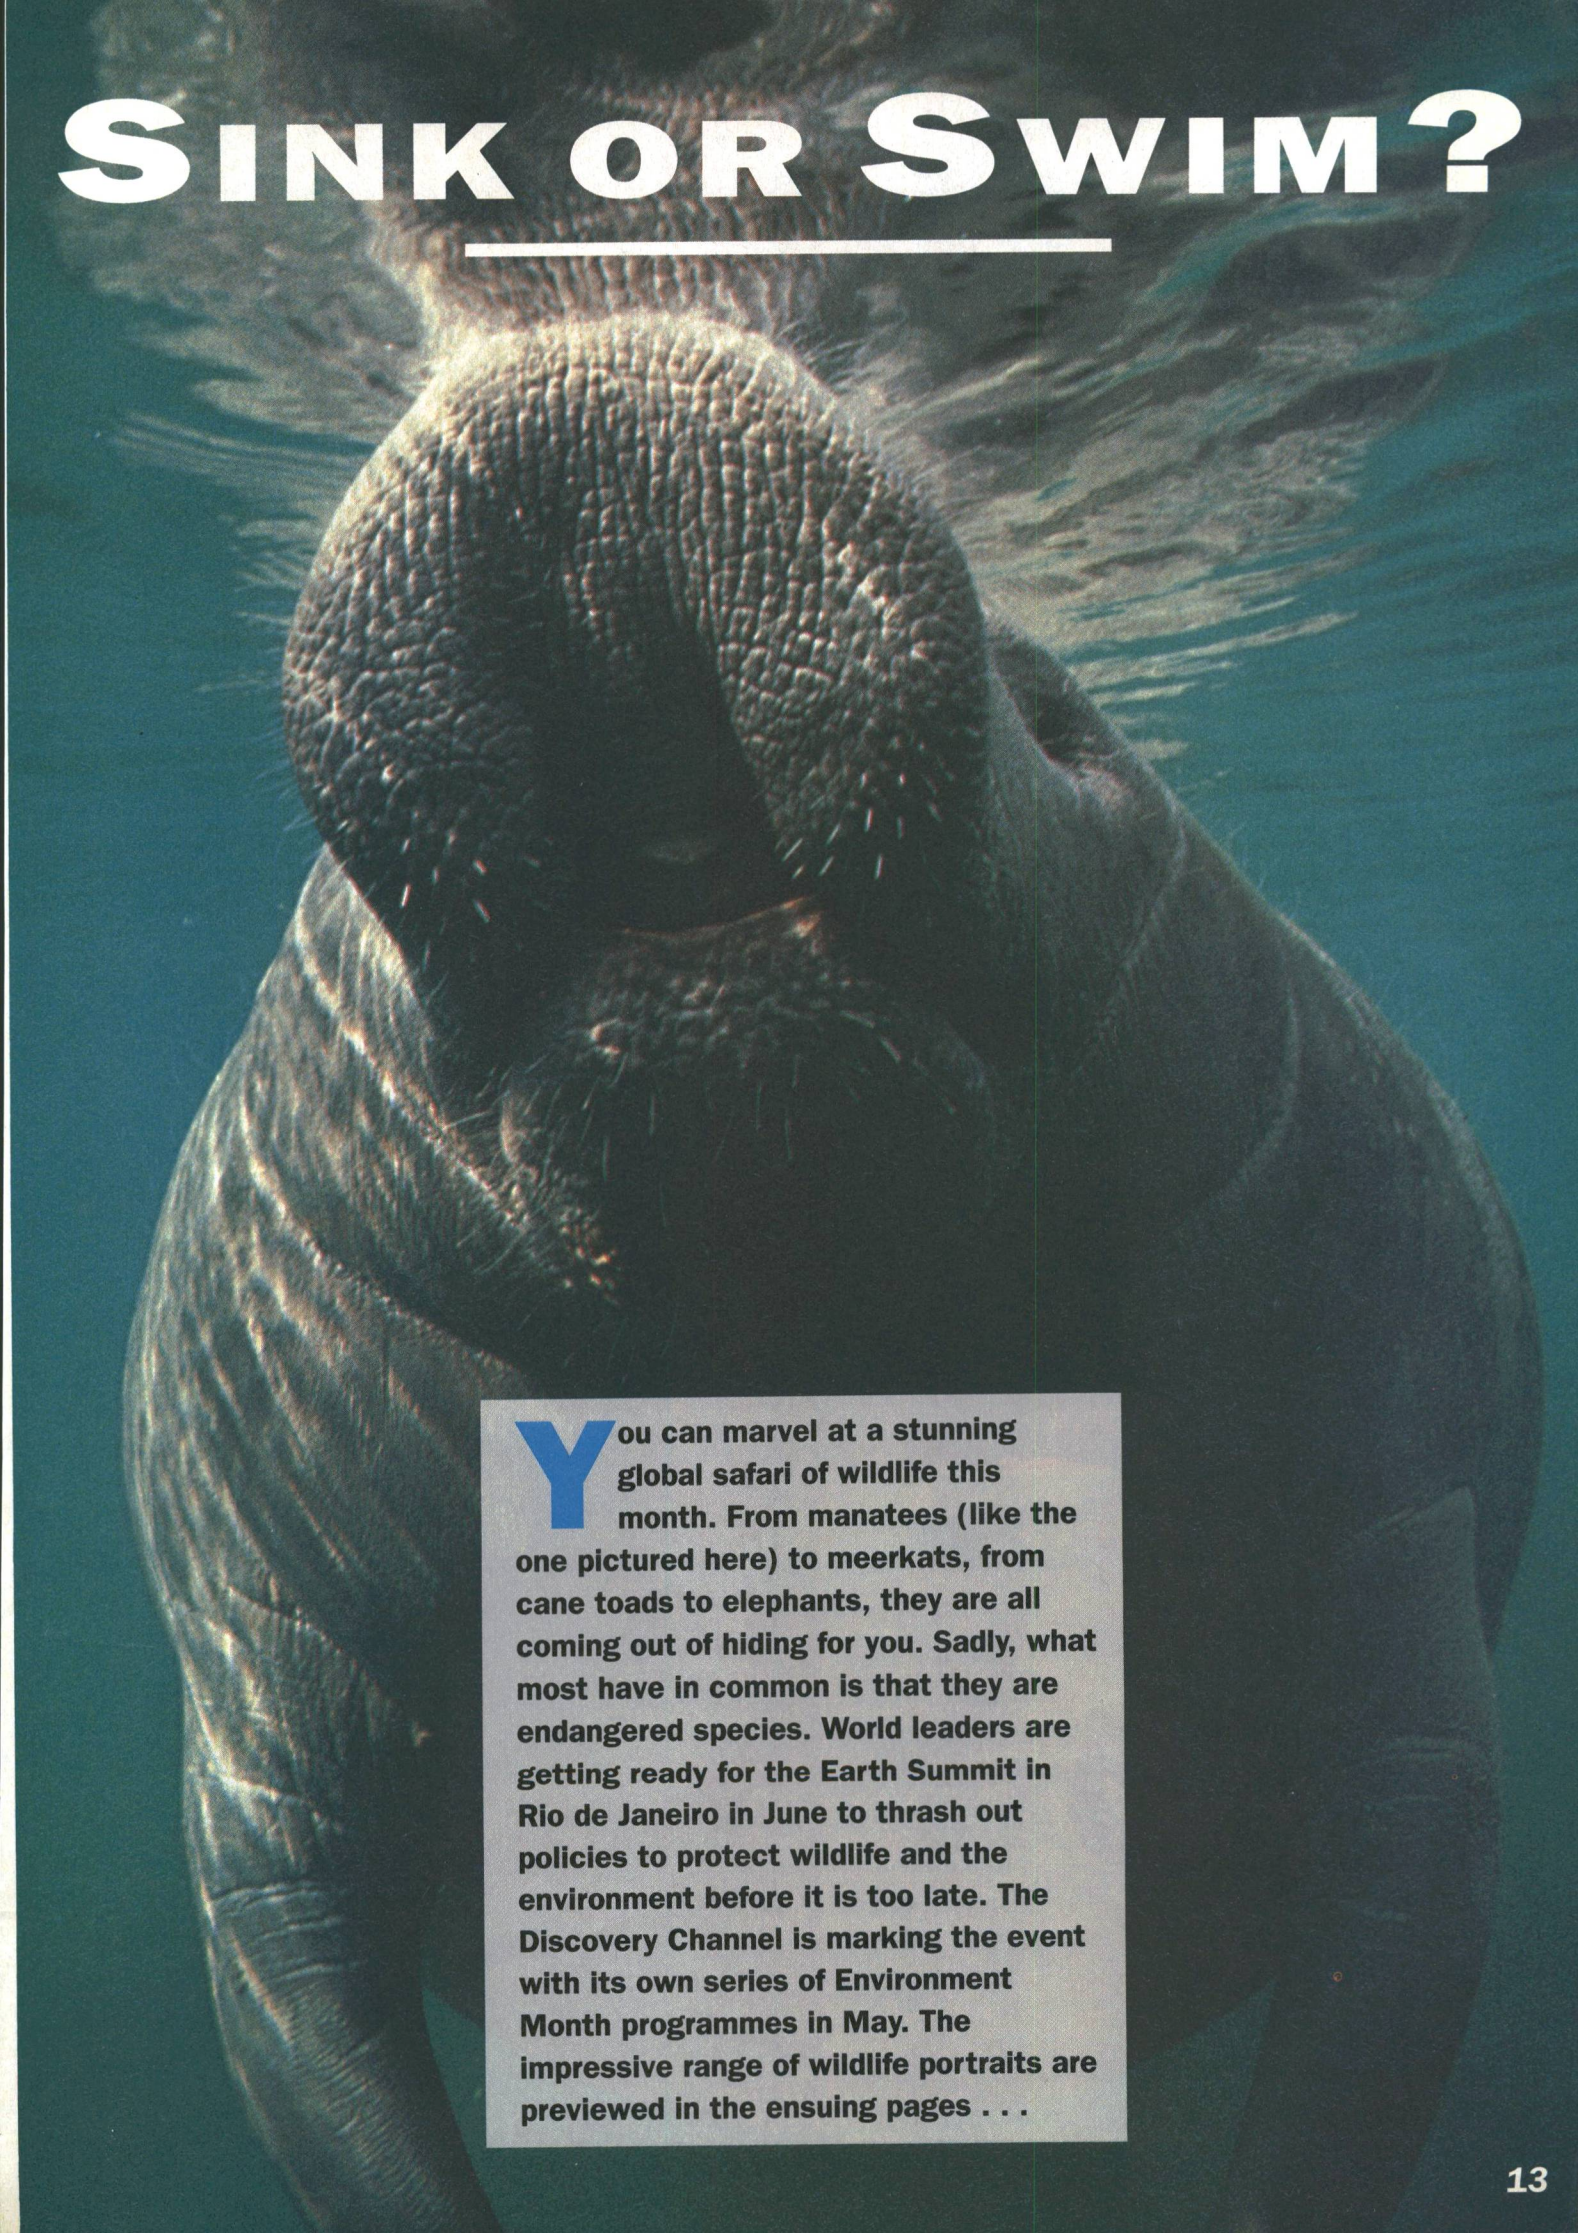
SINK OR SWIM?



You can marvel at a stunning global safari of wildlife this month. From manatees (like the one pictured here) to meerkats, from cane toads to elephants, they are all coming out of hiding for you. Sadly, what most have in common is that they are endangered species. World leaders are getting ready for the Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro in June to thrash out policies to protect wildlife and the environment before it is too late. The Discovery Channel is marking the event with its own series of Environment Month programmes in May. The impressive range of wildlife portraits are previewed in the ensuing pages . . .

I want my mum ...

Elephants are sociable, gentle giants. But that does not stop poachers from slaughtering them for their ivory. While the grieving calves of mutilated mothers usually perish later on, sometimes they can be saved

ED IS A very unhappy little elephant. He has not eaten for nearly two weeks. He is so scrawny that he has developed sunken temples.

And he cannot find his mum.

Ed is five months old and is reliant on his mother's milk. Since the disappearance of his mother Emily, the second ranking elephant in a herd of 16, the other females in this matriarchal society have protected Ed. But they will not feed him, saving all of their milk for their own little ones.

One young female adult, known as Edwina by scientists, has tried to comfort Ed. But Edwina is not yet a mother and would not feed Ed if she was.

A stray barren female from another herd has tried to adopt a frightened Ed, but the other females from his group have ejected the stranger.

The times when Ed used to frolic with his favourite baby female playmate seem a long way off. Ed tries and fails to eat some grass.

And now Ed's herd has moved off, leaving behind the weary baby. Lions and hyenas are always on the lookout for the tired and sick.

Some way off in the African savannah scientists discover vultures feeding on the carcass of an adult female. It is Emily.

Discovery: The Story of Ed, the Orphan Elephant Monday 11th 9.00pm repeated Friday 22nd 5.00pm

Ed's mother has been slaughtered by poachers who have removed her tusks to cash in on the illegal ivory trade.

For every mother that is killed by poachers there is usually a hidden death in the form of her youngest offspring. Thousands of calves have perished.

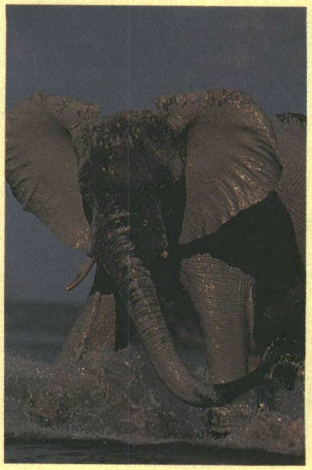
The scientists must act immediately or Ed will join that grim list.

Once it is established that the mother of a calf has been destroyed, if it is fortunate the offspring may be one of the few to be admitted to a small orphanage in Nairobi.

If it can then get over the trauma of losing its mother, aunts and cousins, if it can adapt to a proper diet, and if it can respond to the loving care offered, it might survive.

And after three years at the orphanage it will be taken out to the savannah and trained for its final release back into the wild.

The scientists set off to find Ed . . . ■



ELE-FACTS!

The African elephant population has dropped to 600,000. Most of the reduction results from the illegal ivory trade. The World Wide Fund for Nature is spending more than four million US dollars on projects to protect African elephants. WWF is also campaigning against any resumption in the ivory trade until there are tight controls on importing and exporting countries to prevent illegal ivory infiltrating a legal trade. For further information on the plight of the elephant, and how you can help, write to WWF United Kingdom, Panda House, Weyside Park, Godalming, Surrey GU7 1XR.

NOW YOU AND YOUR FAMILY CAN ENJOY CLEAN HEALTHY AIR

THE ion-air® IONISER

THE ULTIMATE IN IONISATION

HAS BEEN FOUND TO BRING BENEFIT TO SUFFERERS OF ASTHMA, CATARRH, SINUSITIS, BRONCHITIS, MIGRAINE AND HAY FEVER SUFFERERS

We all know that the air that we breathe contains many small airborne particles, these being dust, smoke, pollen, fungal spores and bacteria. These pollutants can be clearly seen when beams of sunlight project across a room.

The main reason why these particles stay suspended, is because of positive charges in the atmosphere. This is very similar to static electricity. In modern life we seem to be going out of our way to produce static electricity at every opportunity. Walking on carpets made out of synthetic materials is a large factor, as well as the clothes we all wear. It is very common to feel, hear, and sometimes see the effect of static when we undress.

But the largest factors are the positive charges given off by every day modern domestic appliances. The television or VDU is without doubt one of the greatest offenders.

However, to anybody who suffers with sensitive skin or eyes, or more importantly, breathing problems this pollution can become unbearable. This problem is particularly true of sufferers of hay fever, asthma, sinusitis and bronchitis.

An ioniser, is designed to take electricity from the mains, and escalate its voltage in such a way to produce a large volume of negative ions. This gives airborne particles a negative electrical charge, causing them to fall to the floor, thereby reducing dust particles, house mites, stale odours from cooking, pets and cigarette smoke

The effect is very similar to the phenomenon that is familiar to us all, the freshness in the atmosphere that is apparent after a heavy thunderstorm. The feeling is also similar to standing next to a waterfall, or to being embraced by sea air or spray in a strong breeze.

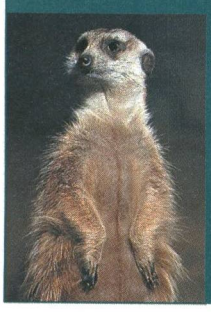
Environment Month Highlights on Discovery



THE MANATEE'S docile and friendly manner contributed to the extinction of one group of them before 1800, and now only a precious few remain. Manatee: Endangered Mermaid (Friday 8th 4.00pm repeated Saturday 9th 9.00pm) looks at the US Fish and Wildlife Service's efforts to protect the small Atlantic population of these ungainly sirens.

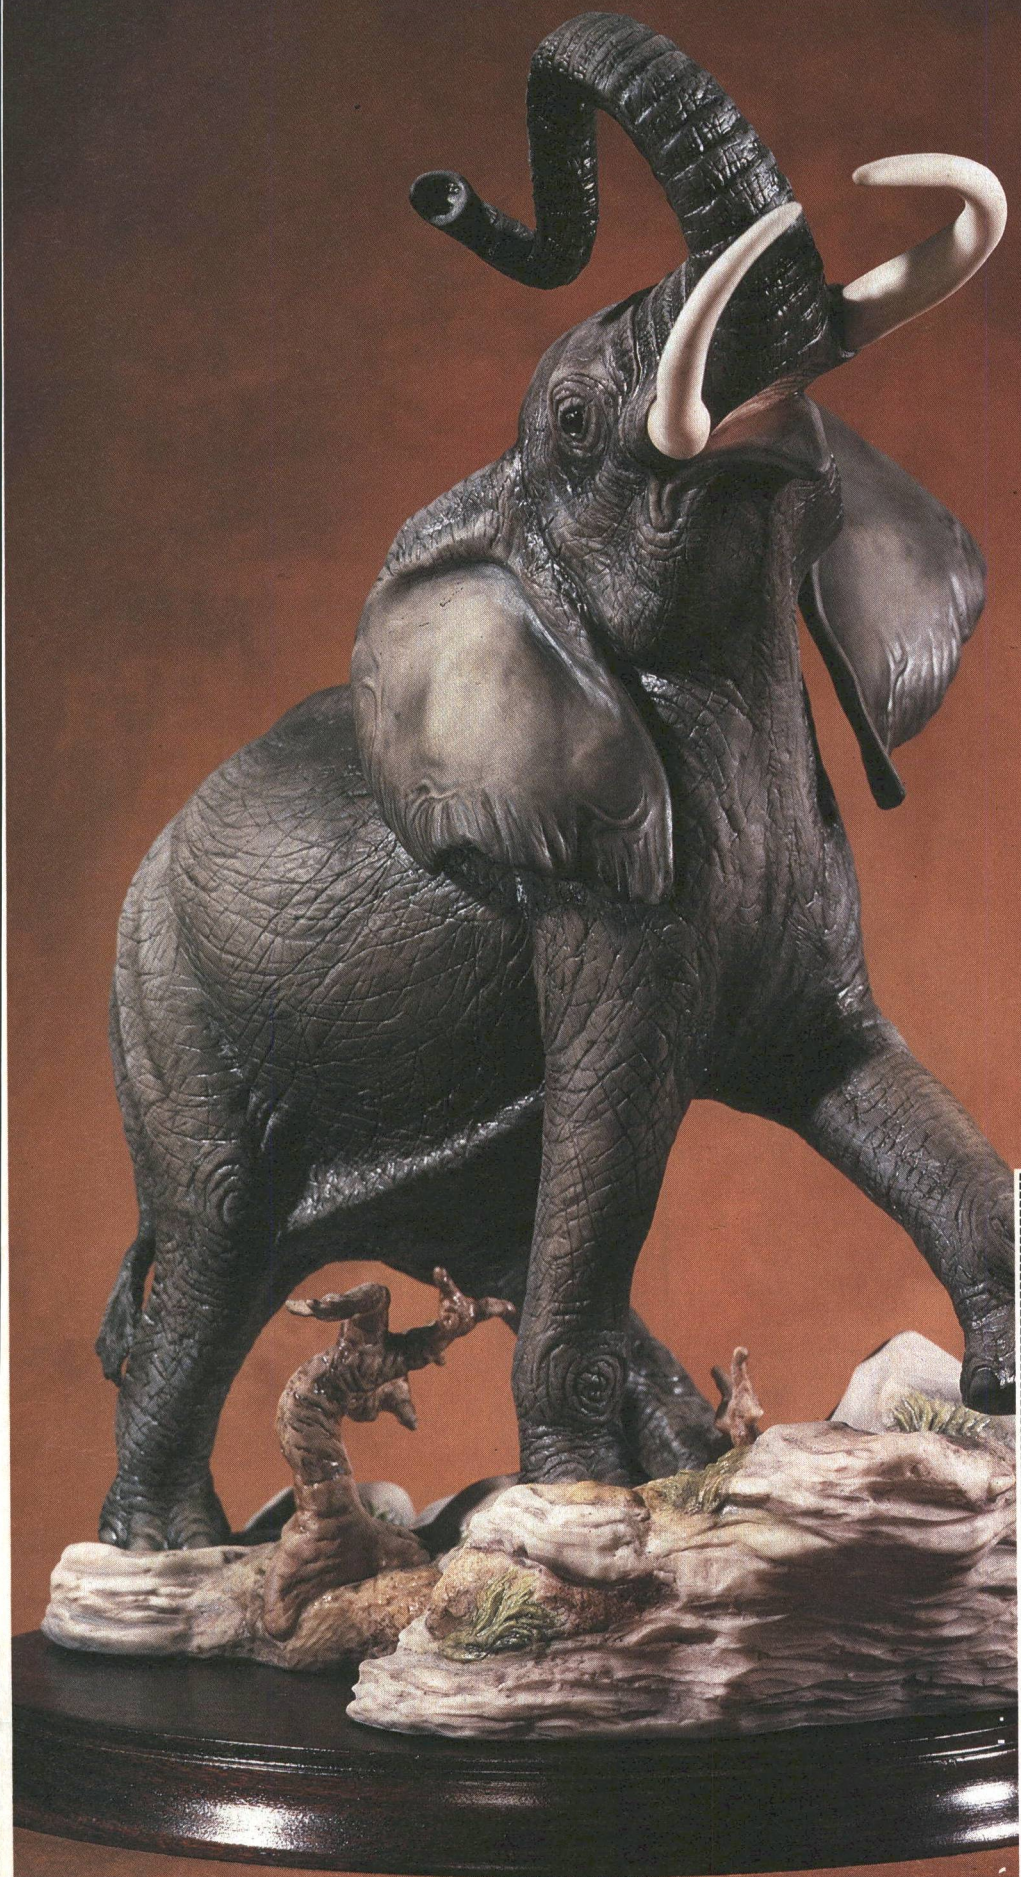
Beaver: Dammed or Damned (Friday 1st 4.00pm repeated Saturday 2nd 9.00pm) is a humorous look at how beavers alter their environment to suit their needs.

Filmmakers become friends with the shy meerkats of the Kalahari Desert in The Valley of the Meerkats II (Friday 15th 9.00pm repeated Tuesday 19th 5.00pm). The film includes a rare spectacle, the birth of baby meerkats.

Environment Month includes babies of all shapes and sizes, some less cute than others. Cane Toads — An Unnatural History (Wednesday 13th 9.00pm repeated Monday 19th 5.00pm) is the story of the charmless toad that is threatening to take over Australia.

● The Mucking Up the Med film featured in April's Cable Guide has been rescheduled. It will now be shown on Tuesday 7th July at 11.00pm.

VANISHING MAJESTY



The African Wildlife Foundation presents a magnificent tribute to one of the world's most endangered animals...

The African elephant is dangerously close to extinction. Hunted and killed for its ivory tusks, this irreplaceable animal may disappear from the earth. Now, the African Wildlife Foundation – dedicated to the survival of this rapidly vanishing species – has commissioned an extraordinary sculpture of the wild African elephant. Sculptured in porcelain to capture every feature. The folds of the leather-like skin... the head, body and legs...the magnificent ivory tusks. Painted by hand in rich and natural colours. A commanding presence in the home or office. Priced at just £225, payable in convenient monthly instalments. Available only from Franklin Mint.

Shown smaller than actual size of 11½" in height. Base included.

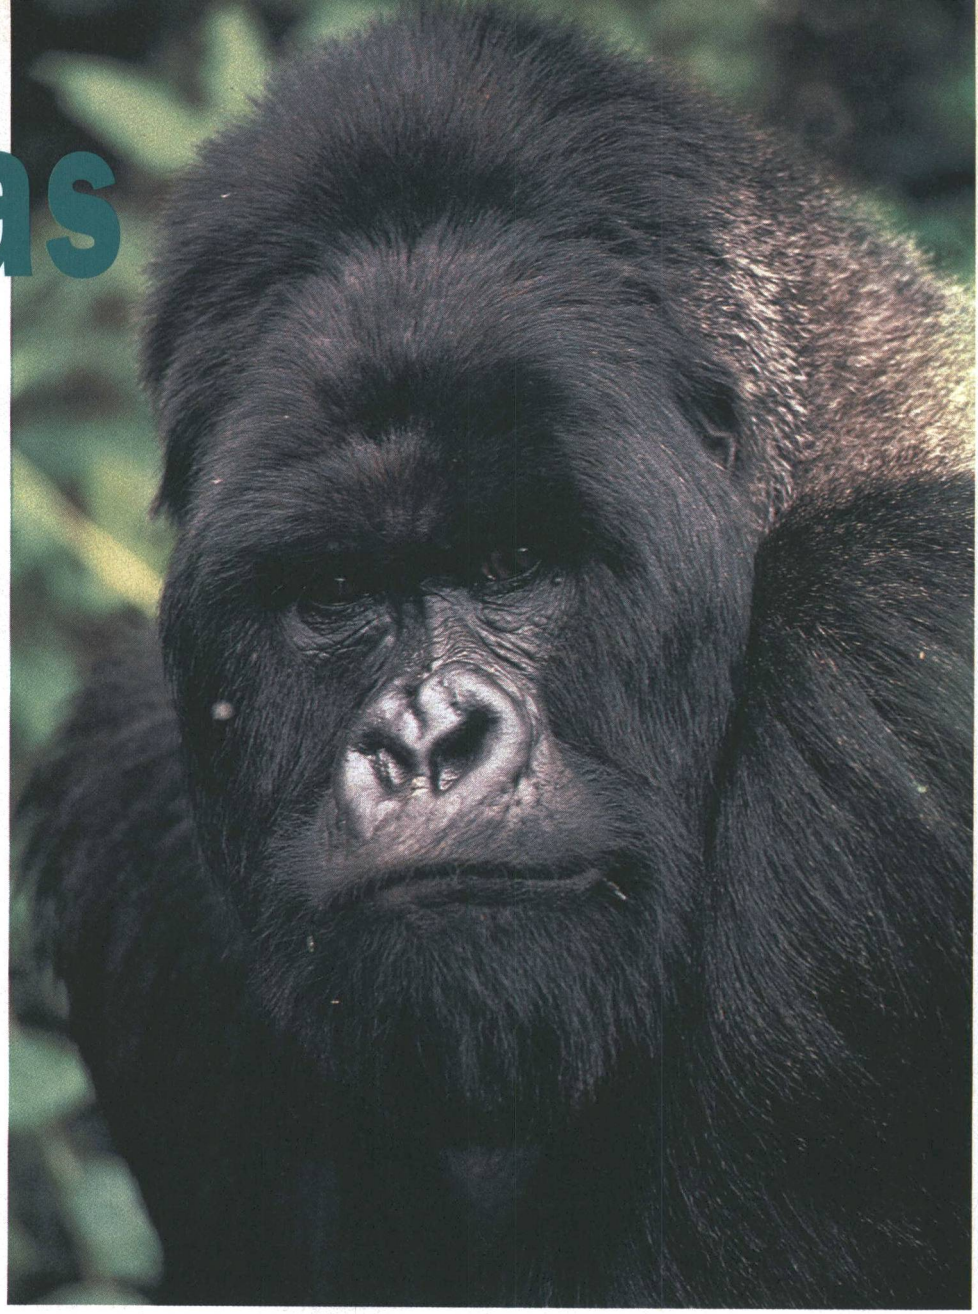
Gorillas in the myth!



Once portrayed as King Kong-style ferocious beasts, mountain gorillas were an exciting quarry for he-man hunters. These peaceful vegetarians are now on the verge of extinction

ACCORDING TO MYTH, the mountain gorilla would sack villages, run amok and carry off women and children.

According to fact, the gorillas are amiable, sociable vegetarians who have almost been wiped out by hunters.

Men of the macho species have enjoyed pitting themselves against these beasts,the largest primates on earth, weighing three times as much as a man and standing as tall. The hunters are armed with guns and wire traps and illegally sell the gorillas to zoos or hack off their heads to sell as trophies.

There are perhaps just 600 of these gorillas left in the Virunga range of volcanoes shared between Rwanda, Uganda and Zaire, and in the Bwindi Forest of Uganda.

The Discovery Channel's Global Family edition, Mountain Gorilla: Gentle Giant, explores the dwindling world of the 200 gorillas hiding in the Rwanda mountains. Forest clearance for agriculture and logging have meant the gorillas badly need a safe haven, but even in their mountain hideaways they are persecuted.

Discovery: Mountain Gorilla: Gentle Giant Friday 15th 4.00pm repeated Saturday 16th 9.00pm

The Discovery documentary has a sequence in which researchers find a baby gorilla snared in a wire trap laid by hunters. The gorillas' chief cannot free it and for once lives up to his ferocious reputation by warding off the friendly humans.

Using an anaesthetic dart, the researchers immobilise the chief and free the unharmed baby.

The film gives an insight into the gorillas' fascinating hierarchy, a society of rulers, rulers in waiting and related dramas.

▲ The mountain gorilla of Rwanda – the largest primate on earth

The mountains are also the setting of the acclaimed 1988 movie Gorillas in the Mist starring Sigourney Weaver. It is based on the life of American Dian Fossey, who went to Africa in 1967 and, with no prior experience, documented the endangered gorillas.

After 20 years of observation she noted that the main occupation of the gorillas was 'sleeping, dozing and eating'. So much for the wild monster image. ■

The World Wide Fund for Nature has supported gorilla conservation for many years. In Uganda, the Bwindi Forest receives WWF support to help protect mountain gorillas. In Zaire and Rwanda, WWF supports mountain gorilla conservation in the national parks of the Virungas. If you would like more information about the gorillas write to WWF United Kingdom, Panda House, Weyside Park, Godalming, Surrey GU7 1XR.

Under the Hammer...

HAMMER FILMS, once a small independent outfit with studios on the Thames at Bray, is probably the British cinema's most successful film company.

Hammer produced supporting features for more than 20 years, but a turning point came in 1956, with a series of low-budget horrors that used vivid colour to emphasise blood and gore, rather than plot and atmosphere.

The classic figures of Dracula, Frankenstein, the Mummy and the Werewolf were revived from America's movie past to runaway success.

One of Hammer's leading actors was Christopher Lee, who appeared as the monster in The Curse of Frankenstein (1956). Lee was catapulted to international fame, and holds the record for the most screen credits, with more than 220 appearances in films from 12 countries.

The only British company to challenge Hammer was Herman Cohen's Anglo-American operation. Critics were shocked by Cohen's gruesome Horrors of the Black Museum (1959), with its opening scene of a young woman having her eyes gouged out by a pair of trick binoculars.

Another attempt to break Hammer's monopoly was Independent Artists' Night of the Eagle (1961), starring Peter Wyngarde as a hard-headed professor whose wife is practising witchcraft on campus.

Until the mid-1950s horror had been monopolised by Hollywood. But in 1956 a transfusion of new blood from Britain hailed the start of a new order.

But Cohen, Independent, Tigon and Amicus could not match Hammer's visual and dramatic achievements. The following decade saw success with Dracula (1958), The Hound of the Baskervilles and The Mummy (1959), She (1965), Rasputin the Mad Monk and One Million Years BC (1966), The Devil Rides Out (1968) and The Wicker Man (1973).

Hammer sold Bray and moved to Elstree in 1970. That year Christopher Lee made his fifth appearance as the Count in Scars of Dracula, which featured new bloods Dennis Waterman and Jenny Hanley. It was the last of Hammer's period Draculas.

Then Ralph Bates, later of Dear John fame, joined Hammer for The Horror of Frankenstein (1971), a black comedy spoof in which the Doctor murders his father while creating a monster.

Bates returned the following year in Dr Jekyll and Sister Hyde, an imaginative reworking of the old theme, in which the Doctor becomes a beautiful but deadly femme fatale.

By the mid-1970s Hammer's fortunes were flagging, as the financial crash of 1974 that hit the film industry began to bite.

Even Christopher Lee grew disenchanted. 'I stopped making them in 1971,' he recalls. 'The character had deteriorated. I was only required to appear from time to time from a dark corner and do very little else.'

◀ Graham Curnow and friend in 'Horrors of the Black Museum'

Despite TV ventures (Hammer House of Horror for example) Hammer entered a dormant phase. But in 1980 new management bought back the company's name and shares and turned it into a profit-making concern. With video sales of its Gothic back catalogue soaring, and a full production programme established for the 1990s, the studio is back on the forefront of the British movie industry. Hammer rises from the grave? ■

Ice Rangers hot up!

Sit back and chill out for top ice hockey action from North America. Screensport has exclusive live coverage of the NHL playoffs and the Stanley Cup

▲ NHL players break the ice

FOR THE NHL's New York Rangers not to have won the Stanley Cup since 1940 is not just bad, it is a disaster. The Ranger's are one of ice hockey's biggest teams.

Can you imagine Liverpool FC taking so long between titles?

The rise of the Rangers was the story of the NHL season as the playoffs beckoned. The Rangers – the NHL's most consistent underachievers – are back! They had dominated the Patrick Division of the Wales Conference with more wins than any other team by the end of March.

The main man helping them to get there is Mark Messier, veteran of so many successful Stanley Cup campaigns with the Edmonton Oilers.

Messier has long been regarded as a key team leader, says Vic Batchelder, editor of Ice Hockey News Review. When the Rangers signed him, they got a focal point for the whole team. It is on Messier's shoulders that Rangers' hopes rest.

'The Rangers have always been the NHL's sleeping giants,' says Batchelder. 'The Messier trade and a few other signings have helped them to turn the corner.

'It's his first year in New York so if he does this after one season then who knows how long they can maintain this kind of improvement.'

A strong team in New York is always good news for an American sports league. The NHL owners recognise that with the LA Kings in contention as well, they have an improving chance of signing a major TV deal. The gridiron, basketball and baseball leagues have loads of TV money, but the NHL relies on local deals and gate money.

That's why this season's threat of a strike by the players could be devastating. The owners say that no players means no games or fans and that means no revenue. The owners want to keep talking and pray for no playoff disruption.

'This year's favourites should be Montreal or Detroit, who have headed strong divisions,' says Batchelder.

'Vancouver and Washington could also step up the pace in the playoffs.'

Then there is also the LA Kings. The US media's favourite topic is whether the King of the Ice, Wayne Gretsky, can bring the ultimate prize to owner Bruce McNall's expensive toy.

The signing of Paul Coffey is the latest warning that the Kings are ready to be crowned. They have not had an outstanding regular season but they could be peaking at just the right time.

Brazil's Careca celebrates finding the net

MAY PROMISES a fiesta of cup and international soccer as a prelude to Sweden's European Championship in June.

England manager Graham Taylor has hinted that results in friendlies are less important than assessing the talent he can employ. So England's eighteenth clash with Hungary, in Budapest on Tuesday 12th, should be intriguing (live coverage on Sky Sports at 5.30pm).

Wembley will then welcome the ever-attractive Brazilians the following Sunday (also live on Sky at 3.00pm). The South American team is synonymous with dazzling flair and with Careca and Romario on display the 1992 side should live up to the country's awesome reputation.

In domestic football both major FA Cup Finals are on Saturday 9th. Sky Sports will review both in a Cup Final Special at 6.30pm and the afternoon's live action comes direct from Hampden Park.

THE LONDON MONARCHS, WLAF Champions, wrap up their regular season with an away clash against the Frankfurt Galaxy on Saturday 23rd. Their other away meetings with New York/New Jersey (3rd) and Montreal Machine (17th) can also be seen live on Screensport, all at 6.00pm.

Chequered careers!

AFTER NIGEL MANSELL'S riproaring start to the Formula 1 season, the British driver said: 'From now on it will become tougher because McLaren-Honda are going to be throwing everything at us.'

Just how tough can be seen this month when Eurosport covers the Grands Prix in Spain, San Marino and Monaco.

World Champion Ayrton Senna and his McLaren-Honda team got off to a slow start in South Africa and Mexico using last year's equipment. Mansell and his Williams team-mate Riccardo Patrese capitalised by twice romping home first and second respectively.

So how big a threat will Senna's new car be? Will he suffer from teething troubles like Mansell did last season?

The circuits at Barcelona, Imola and Monaco should answer the big questions.

The Circuit de Catalunya in Spain is one of the best new circuits for years. The track is incredibly smooth, safe and a treat to drive on. There are high- and low-speed sections, uphill and downhill, with some intriguing corners.

Italy's Autodromo Enzo e Dino Ferrari is in a park right in the centre of Imola. This is also a wonderful track with lots of hills to cope with.

Though Monaco, with its narrow streets inviting mistakes, is criticised by some drivers it is loved by others for its atmosphere and the challenge it presents. It is a bit of a lottery and everybody's in with a shout. ■

The Paris racket

THE GRAND SLAM tennis entourage moves on to Paris this month for the French Open.

The 14-day hardcourt tournament at the Roland Garros is the second Grand Slam event of the season and will feature all the top men and women. Jim Courier and Monica Seles will be defending their singles titles. Though Seles's appearances became erratic toward the end of last season, she is unlikely to miss this event.

She has an emotional tie with the French Open, having become its youngest ever winner in 1990 at the age of 16.

Sky Sports is screening more than 50 hours of live action from Paris from Monday 25th. ■

BRAVO

Just Enjoy Yourself Dear Boy

'You could talk about May's Shakespeare movies... Larry's Henry V and all that' he suggested, as he popped his Boots Factor 15, perfume-free suncream in his dorothy bag. I could, Cedric, but I won't. No, just for a change, I'm going to ignore movies and concentrate on Bravo's wealth of classic TV shows. To Cedric, when a TV set isn't showing a vintage movie, it's little more than a vase stand. I'm more open-minded than CB (who isn't?) especially when it comes to US sitcoms like I Dream of Jeannie, starring Larry Hagman - before his ten gallon days as lovable ol' JR. This time, much trimmer of girth and less evil of eye, he plays Capt. Tony Nelson, an astronaut who discovers a bottle on a desert island complete with a real-life, sexy genie inside (aka Jeannie). Besotted with her new master, Jeannie follows him home and continues to grant his every wish (as well as taking care of the housework in a matter of seconds). The scripts are crisp, inventive and lots of fun. Even better is the Mary Tyler Moore Show - the show that not only gave birth to Rhoda and Lou Grant as characters, but also as quality hit shows in their own right. Mary Tyler Moore plays a single girl who moves into an older apartment building in Minneapolis to start a new life. For me, it's the sharp writing that makes the show - as well as the excellent casting, including Cloris Leachman - who also got her own show as the crabby Phyllis. Hogan's Heroes is another favourite of mine - based, I'm told, on Billy Wilder's much acclaimed comi-tragic Stalag 17. Using a WW2 POW camp as a comedy backdrop, it sends up the 'Bosh' something rotten - especially the hopeless Colonel Klink and his bumbling underling Sergeant ('I see nothing') Schultz. Honestly, it's in another class to 'Allo Allo'. Also a lot of fun is the Mel Brooks creation Get Smart, starring Don Adams as incompetent secret agent Maxwell Smart. Smart never quite lives up to his name - in fact he's inept beyond belief, but ever willingly in pursuit of the enemy agents of K.A.O.S. Meanwhile in The Wild Wild West, aboard his own customised train, macho secret agent James West, played by Robert Conrad, is pitched against the forces of evil in post Civil War America. This is Wild West adventure with more than a touch of the Jules-Verne-meets-James-Bond about it, where gunslinging and cattle rustling run a poor third to the problems of megalomaniacs and mad scientists intent on world domination, with secret weapons that belong at least 70 years in the future. It's all enjoyable sci-fi fantasy with some intriguing storylines. Watch for Ross Martin as West's more cerebral sidekick - he steals the show. Finally, just a mention of The Fugitive - definitely among the best-ever TV drama series, a unique show that kept huge, worldwide audiences in tow with Dr Richard Kimble for the entire 4 years he and it ran (and ran). Incidentally, the booming voice of the narrator is none other than William 'Cannon' Conrad. I could go on - about the David Niven Show, Dick Powell, Route 66 and so many more. Perhaps one day I will. Until then, happy viewing.

Today's Choice

10.00pm Bravo. Scars of Dracula. Chris Lee of the massive build and crypt-like voice is at it again, as a young couple foolishly enters a mist-wreathed castle in search of the young man's younger brother, (played by Jenny Magpie Hanley and Dennis Waterman). Of course Drac comes down on them like a ton of bricks, and vamp fans everywhere can thrill to the obligatory sex and gore that made Hammer's name.

Today's Choice

10.00pm Sky Movies Plus. Presumed Innocent. Harrison Ford gives an intense, brooding performance as District Attorney Rusty Sabich in Alan J Pakula's lugubrious adaptation of Scott Turow's best-selling mystery novel. Assigned to investigate the brutal rape and murder of his legal colleague and one-time lover Carolyn Polhemus (Greta Scaachi), Sabich's life is turned upside-down when all the evidence points to him being the killer. Gordon Willis's burnished cinematography lends an appropriately sombre tone to the proceedings, and not a word is wasted in Frank Pierson's taut script.

Today's Choice

8.00pm Bravo. Henry V. Laurence Olivier received a Special Academy Award for his Outstanding Achievement as Actor, Producer and Director in bringing Henry V to the screen. The production cost ran to around $2 million, and is reflected in the film's superb detail, costumes, set and colour photography. From the opening scene at the Globe Theatre to the final battle at Agincourt, Olivier is at his finest.

Today's Choice

8.00pm Sky Sports. Boxing Documentary - The Greatest. A profile of Muhammad Ali, one of the most charismatic men of the century. In three classic clashes of boxing history, he won the World Heavyweight title from Sonny Liston at the age of 22, lost to Joe Frazier in 1971, and knocked out George Foreman in 1974. Outside the ring, he refused to fight in Vietnam, changed his name from Cassius Clay and became a Black Muslim, and emerged as a major force in the Civil Rights and Black Consciousness movements.

9.00pm The Discovery Channel. British Grand Prix Greats. Of the eight British racing drivers featured in this film, only four are still alive. The survivors, Stirling Moss, Jackie Stewart, Tony Brooks and James Hunt, tell of the most heart-stopping moments of their careers. All eight drivers had the guts to battle their way to the top in the fastest and most dangerous sport on Earth. What were their hopes and fears, and how did they keep going?

12.15am The Movie Channel. Eight Men Out. John Sayles, one of America's most talented writer/directors, brings to the screen one of the most notorious periods of American sporting history: the Chicago Black Sox scandal of 1919, in which World Series favourites Chicago White Sox threw the championship in return for a handsome pay-off from the book-makers. However, the plan backfired, shocking a nation in the process. With John Cusack, Charlie Sheen and Christopher Lloyd.

Today's Choice

9.00pm The Discovery Channel. Chrome Dreams. The year is 1950, a time of optimism. North America's ten year shopping spree is about to begin. With the birth of rock'n'roll, the teenage consumer and two cars in every garage, the world's largest corporation designed the most enduring symbol of the 1950s - the Chevrolet. Hosted by Rompin' Ronnie Hawkins, otherwise known as "the Hawk', this film pays homage to those years, as it explores America's love affair with the automobile, and features exclusive interviews with members of the Original Chevrolet Design Studio (1955 – 57).

Today's Choice

8.00pm Sky Movies Plus. Ernest Goes To Jail. The third in the successful comedy series following the adventures of Ernest P Worrell, a character created by popular American comedian Jim Varney. In this Ernest outing, the dim-witted children's favourite finds himself facing execution when a Death Row inmate (also played by Varney) whom he closely resembles forcibly switches places with our hero while on a tour of the prison. Also starring Gailard Sartain and Barbara Rush.

Today's Choice

9.00 pm The Discovery Channel. The Story of Ed, the Orphan Elephant. This is the story of Ed and the dedicated people who tried to save him. When the film was made, both Ed and the film makers were unaware of the tragedy to come. Ed frisks happily in the mud with his playmates, but one day his mother disappears. The film shows how he was rescued and taken to an elephant orphanage, where elephants are taught how to eat grass and take plenty of mud-baths. This saves Ed, but serves as a reminder of all the other baby elephants who are invisible victims of the ivory trade.

Today's Choice

12.05am The Movie Channel. Funny About Love. A perceptive romantic comedy starring Gene Wilder as Duffy Bergman, a cartoonist whose child-like view of the adult world around him makes for a complicated love life. When Duffy's short-lived marriage to Meg (Christine Lahti) founders after perennial disagreements on the subject of children, he begins a new relationship with the young and uninhibited Daphne (Mary Stewart Masterson), which marks the beginning of a new and adventurous chapter in his life. Star Trek's Leonard Nimoy directs.

Today's Choice

9.00pm The Discovery Channel. Cane Toads: An Unnatural History. A black comedy which exposes one of the most bizarre biological blunders of all time. When a sackload of Cane Toads was introduced to Australia in 1935 to save the sugar cane crop from the Greyback beetle, scientists failed to realise that the beetle could fly but the Cane Toad couldn't! The mission was a failure, but the toad was very happy in its new surroundings, breeding so rapidly that it soon became a pest of plague proportions. Local farmers were not amused.

Today's Choice

10.00pm Bravo Dr Jekyll and Sister Hyde. 'The sexual transformation of a man into a woman will actually take place before your very eyes', promised the lobby cards of the day. Here's a chance to see for yourself, as Ralph Bates of Dear John fame gives of his best in this entertaining variation on the Dr Jekyll theme with a Jack the Ripper subplot. It tells of a physician who creates an instant sex change formula and turns himself into a beautiful but very evil woman.

Today's Choice

9.50pm The Movie Channel. Home Alone. When the McCallister family rush off to Paris at Christmas they leave behind something very important - their youngest son Kevin, played by the irresistible Macaulay Culkin. All alone in the sprawling suburban home, Kevin discovers that fending for himself can be a lot of fun, living out his childhood fantasies of marathon TV sessions and junk food binges. However, when a pair of dim-witted burglars target the McCallister house for their next robbery, the pre-teen tyke puts his mischievous energy to good use with a neat line in booby traps.

Today's Choice

3.00pm Sky Sports. International Football - Live. England vs Brazil from Wembley stadium. The two nations last met at Wembley in March 1990, in preparation for Italia '90. England beat the famous team in gold and blue by a single Lineker goal. The fixture always attracts a sell-out crowd of 80,000 The most feared national side since the days of Pele and Garrincha, Brazil's blue and gold guarantee a capacity crowd every time they visit. Their name is synonymous with skill and precision, and with players like Careca and Romario on display, their 1992 side won't prove the exception.

9.00pm The Discovery Channel. The Battle of Britain. When France surrendered on 22nd June 1940, Britain and her Commonwealth stood alone against Germany. In that dark summer of 1940, the threat of invasion hung heavily over Britain, and children were once more evacuated to the countryside. The Army was still recovering from its defeat in France and could offer no real defence against invasion, but thanks to Air Chief Marshall Sir Hugh Dowding, the Spitfire and the Hurricane were at the ready. This film features rare footage of the events as they happened.

10.00pm HVC. Insect. A man is rushed to hospital after cutting himself on a new plant. While he suffers from convulsions, a strange worm-like creature emerges from his mouth and is rushed to the lab, but some meddling children unwittingly feed it with growth accelerator. The now-enlarged insect heads for the basement with a lab technician and her boyfriend as a food supply. Can anything stop the overgrown bug? Starring Steve Railsback and Gwynth Walters.

Today's Choice

8.15pm The Movie Channel. White Hot: The Mysterious Murder of Thelma Todd. The life and mysterious death of much-loved screen star and restauranteur Thelma Todd (played by Loni Anderson), whose romance with notorious gangster 'Lucky' Luciano made her the talk of Tinseltown in the early 1930s, and may have had something to do with her untimely demise. A young District Attorney, sceptical of the official 'suicide' verdict, decides to investigate the case for himself.

Today's Choice

9.00pm The Discovery Channel. Eva Braun. Germany's most infamous woman rose from being a working-class shop assistant to worldwide notoriety as Adolph Hitler's mistress. She died with him in the bunker only hours after becoming his wife. This film is her own remarkable legacy, a bizarre "home movie' which she shot at Hitler's mountain retreat in Bavaria. It gives an exclusive view of the Nazi elite at work and play: Goering and Goebbels, Himmler, Speer, Von Ribbentrop and Bormann all appear alongside Hitler at the house parties and conferences he held there.

Today's Choice

10.00pm Sky Movies Plus. Graffiti Bridge. Another colourful rock musical starring, directed, scored and written by Prince. This sequel to Purple Rain pits the Purple One, as The Kid, against Morris Day for the control of the Glam Slam nightclub. The film uses Prince's music, as well as that of arch-rival Day and a host of other modern performers like Mavis Staples, to illustrate the spiritual battle.

Today's Choice

10.00pm HVC. Future Hunters. In the year 2025, death and destruction are an accepted part of life in Earth's nuclear wasteland. A brave warrior seeks a magic spear which for centuries has been in the hands of ruthless dictators. As guns blaze and fists fly, our hero encounters strange vehicles and even stranger people. With Robert Patrick and Linda Carol.

Today's Choice

8.00pm HVC. The Three Wishes of Billy Grier. Billy Grier appears to be like any normal 16-year-old, so when he complains of a pain in his knee, nobody thinks anything of it. But he later discovers he has contracted a rare disease that causes premature ageing, and has only a year to live. His three final wishes are to find his missing father, to make love to a woman and to play the saxophone to a live audience, not necessarily in that order.

Today's Choice

8.15pm The Movie Channel. Loose Connections. An on-the-road comedy about radical feminist Lindsay Duncan, who places an ad for a partner to share the expenses of a jeep drive from Britain to Munich. However, instead of the like-minded individual for which she had hoped, she finds herself stuck with a boorish, chauvinist, chain-smoking football supporter played by Stephen Rea. Needless to say, their pan-European trip does not go smoothly. Directed by Richard Eyre.

Today's Choice

5.00pm The Discovery Channel. The History of Le Mans. Taut-nerved drivers battle for supremacy in this gruelling 24-hour non-stop test of endurance. The thrills and spills of the world's most famous motor racing event come alive in this film record of the years since its beginnings in 1923, which features interviews with famous drivers and their cars, including pre-war Bentleys, Ferraris, the sleek Aston Martins of the 1950s, the powerful Porsches of the 1960s, and the hi-tech Jaguars and Mercedes that now dominate the track.

Today's Choice

10.00pm Bravo. Horrors of the Black Museum. Definitely not for the weak of heart, this gruesome and unforgettable horror classic tells of a famous crime writer who is fascinated by murder and works out his own imaginative plots by practice beforehand. Michael Gough is spectacular as the nutty novelist who displays his own murder weapons in a museum where he is visited by adoring fans. Directed by Arthur Crabtree, and also starring Graham Gurnow and June Cunningham, the movie's opening scenes may well deter you from plane-spotting or visits to Ascot!

10.00am Sky Sports. French Open Tennis - Live. The hardcourt French Open is the most common ground for Grand Slam contenders to fall short of the 4-tournament haul. Rod Laver is the only player in the Open Tennis era to win all four Grand Slam events. Nine have fallen one event short, with five of these missing out in Paris. Arthur Ashe, Boris Becker, Jimmy Connors, Stefan Edberg and John Newcombe are the disappointed superstars.

Do you hate Bart Simpson? Do you love wrestling? Why don't they show Star Trek again? Why don't you write to Cable Guide and tell us about it? Address your views to The Editor, Cable Guide, Communications House, 5 Factory Lane, Croydon CR9 3RA

Cher premium

I GET GREAT pleasure from the programmes that Cable puts out, especially the music videos on MTV.
Can you tell me if there are any plans to show a compilation of videos by Cher? For years I have been trying to obtain such a video and it seems it just does not exist. I am sure her fans all over the country would be extremely pleased if such a programme was made.

There are no plans for such a programme on MTV at present

▲ End the WWF stranglehold?

Holding out for more

AS A WRESTLING fan I was wondering if and when the WCW and USWA programmes will be shown again?
The WWF is fine for kids but it really is overshown. We have Primetime, which shows all the best matches, then we have All-American Wrestling, and Wrestling Challenge, both of which show the same matches. Could we not have the return of the WCW, plus equal showing of their big events? Too much favouritism is shown to the WWF and no consideration is shown to the fans of WCW.

Eurobics euphoria!

I WOULD LIKE to thank Screensport for Eurobics: Bodies in Motion with Gilad Janklowicz every weekday. I enjoyed his workout so much that my friends joined in and now there are 10 of us doing it.
We would dearly love Bodies in Motion t-shirts or workout outfits. Keep it coming for years to come, please, we love it.
